

CALL FOR PARTICIPANTS

Training course on Open space technology

14th till 22nd of November, 2015

SHORT STORY ABOUT THE PROJECT IDEA

The entire project is based on participants' active approach. It interfaces both local and international activities. The basic project's principle is learning by experience. The participants will implement local events in Liberec, which will consolidate their knowledge acquired within the training. Training will give participants chance to learn to use the method of Open Space Technology, which will enable them to involve their local youth in decision-making process through innovative method of conference management. In addition, the participants will be supported in creating new projects and building long-term partnerships and inspiration through www.localtobe.com, a web portal completed by examples of good practices from EU and partner countries
